Marc T. Galloway, MD Receives Kappa Delta Award

Cincinnati, Ohio— Dr. Marc T. Galloway has received a Kappa Delta Award, considered to be the highest recognition of excellence and promise in orthopaedic research.

Dr. Galloway and colleagues David L. Butler, Ph.D., Natalie Juncosa-Melvin, Ph.D., and Gregory P. Boivin, DVM, will receive the Ann Donner Vaughn Award for their collaborative investigations of functional tissue engineering for tendon repair using mesenchymal stem cells, bioscaffolds and mechanical stimulation.

The award was presented at the Orthopaedic Research Society's annual meeting on February 18 in San Diego.

This marks the third time that a physician from Cincinnati SportMedicine & Orthopaedic Center has received a Kappa Delta Award. Dr. Frank R. Noyes won the award in 1977 and 2004.

Dr. Galloway has been selected by his peers to be listed in "The Best Doctors in America" each year since 1996 and he is one of four orthopaedic surgeons in Cincinnati to have been included in Cincinnati Magazine's ³Best Doctors in Cincinnati² in the 2002, 2004, 2005, and 2006 editions. Dr. Galloway sees patients at our Mason, Montgomery, and Kentucky offices.

Dr. Galloway received his undergraduate degree from the University of North Carolina and his medical degree from the Duke University School of Medicine.

Dr. Galloway is licensed in Ohio, Kentucky and Connecticut
