Cincinnati SportsMedicine & Orthopaedic Center Welcomes Dr. Matthew L. Busam

1993 Elder High School Valedictorian Returns to Cincinnati

Dr. Matthew L. Busam, an orthopaedic surgeon specializing in sports medicine and shoulder surgery, recently joined the staff at Cincinnati SportsMedicine & Orthopaedic Center.

Dr. Busam attended Elder High School where he was a member of the 1993 state champion basketball team and graduated as valedictorian. He attended the University of Notre Dame, graduating Suma Cum Laude in 1997. After college, Dr. Busam attended medical school at Vanderbilt University where he graduated Alpha Omega Alpha, earning his Surgical Clerkship Award, the Orthopaedic Clerkship Award, and the Hospital Award of Excellence.

Following medical school, Dr. Busam completed his orthopaedic surgery training at Vanderbilt Medical Center, developing an interest in sports medicine while serving as team physician to multiple Nashville area high schools, as well as the Vanderbilt lacrosse team and assisting with coverage for the football and basketball programs.

Dr. Busam pursued advanced surgical training at the world-renowned Rush University in Chicago. There he trained extensively in arthroscopic surgery of the knee, hip and shoulder, ligament reconstruction, cartilage transplantation, meniscal transplantation, osteotomies, and shoulder replacement including the reverse ball and socket arthroplasty.

Dr. Busam has authored several peer reviewed articles and text book chapters. He is currently editing a monograph on Surgical Treatment of Cartilage Defects in the Knee. He is a reviewer for Arthroplasty, the Journal of Arthroscopic and Related Surgery. He has extensive experience as an orthopaedic educator, serving as instructor at multiple courses, including those sponsored by the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgery (AAOS) and the Arthroscopy Association of North American (AANA).

"I am excited to come home to Cincinnati and to join the one of the premier academic sports medicine practices in the country. I hope to complement the staff and surgeons at CSMOC and continue their tradition of clinical and academic excellence throughout the area."

Dr. Busam will be seeing patients at Cincinnati SportsMedicine's our Clifton office at 311 Straight Street (513/559-2122), our Kentucky office located at 328 Thomas Moore Parkway (859/331-9700), and our soon to be open Western Hills Location.
